Protecting the Confidentiality and Security of Your Information

We employ industry recognized security safeguards to help protect the personally identifiable information that you have provided to us from loss, misuse, or unauthorized alteration. Only those persons who need it to perform their job responsibilities are authorized to access your information. We take commercially reasonable precautions to protect your information and limit disclosure by maintaining physical, electronic and procedural safeguards in compliance with Federal Law.

Cookies

We may send “cookies” to your computer primarily to enhance your online experience. “Cookies” are text files sent from a Web server and stored on your computer to assist in identifying you as unique customer and store your personal preferences as well as technical information. Cookies can be either stored on your computer until you delete them or last only until you close your browser.

You have the ability to accept or decline cookies. Most Web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can usually modify your browser setting to decline cookies if you prefer.
