WORD OF CAUTION !!!

THIS MAY AFFECT YOUR LOAN

The processing of your home loan is a detailed process and requires accurate information. Please keep in mind that this may take longer than expected and require final updating before the funding of your loan. Because of these last minute updates, it is imperative that the information you give us, and is subsequently re-verified by our office and the lender, does not change substantially.

Therefore, please continue to make your mortgage payments and all other financial obligations as usual until the close of escrow. Please notify us before you do any of the following or please delay doing the following if at all possible:

1. Change of Employment
2. Move significant funds from one bank account to another or close a bank account
3. Make any large purchases such as an automobile, furniture, or high cost item
4. Leave town without notifying your mortgage professional in advance
5. Co-sign for anything
6. Increase your balance by charging on a credit card
7. Any credit inquiries for any types of debts

All of the above situations can be dealt with appropriately if we know about the changes before their occurrence. Failure to notify us about any significant changes to your original loan file, or any material fact regarding your financial condition, could seriously affect the outcome of your loan transaction.

YOUR LOAN FILE WILL BE UPDATED PRIOR TO THE CLOSE OF ESCROW

I hereby authorize the release of my credit information to the necessary parties in this transaction (i.e. agent or seller). This will be done only if specifically required by the details of this transaction.

Trigger Leads – What They Are and What to Do About Them

What is a mortgage trigger lead?

When an applicant applies for a mortgage loan and the lender runs credit, the credit bureaus register a specific code that tells their system that the requestor (Home Ownership Financial or the lender) has permission to run credit. These codes tell national Credit Reporting Agencies (Experian, Trans Union, Equifax) that a consumer is shopping for a mortgage. The credit bureaus take the consumer's information, which they already have in the consumer's credit file, and turn these into "trigger leads" that are then sold to other lenders for marketing purposes. They are initiated or "triggered" by the credit inquiry on a consumer's application for a certain type of credit and are normally sold in bulk lots and when a company signs up to receive them. They can even request to only receive leads from certain groups of consumers based on age groups, specific credit scores, specific neighborhoods, current mortgage payments, etc.

Who is selling the information?

The information is being sold by the three major credit bureaus – Experian, Trans Union, and Equifax. It is NOT being sold by Home Ownership Financial or the service we use to access the credit reports.

What happens when a company buys a trigger lead?

Soon after applying for the mortgage loan, the applicant may start receiving dozens of phone calls, e-mails, or physical mail from other lenders wanting their business.

Is the credit bureau's sale of this information legal?

Unfortunately, yes, it is legal as long as the credit bureaus as well as the company buying the information meet certain legal requirements under the Fair Credit Reporting Act. The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) feels that it can provide the consumer with more options when they are looking to buy or refinance a home. The drawback is that the consumer often gets bombarded with unwanted calls, emails, and mail because of this.

How can I reduce these solicitations?

There are ways that a borrower can help prevent themselves from ending up on a trigger list:

1. Register at optoutprescreen.com or call 1-888-5OPTOUT (1-888-567-8688). This will opt a consumer out of unwanted solicitations for five years and it costs nothing. It does usually take one to two weeks for it to take effect so the earlier this is done, the better.
2. Sign up at the Do Not Call Registry, donotcall.gov. This is also free and should take effect within 24 hours, however a borrower may have already ended up on a trigger lead list prior to registering so could still receive calls for up to 31 days. Being on the DNC list does not mean all calls will stop. A consumer can still get calls for political reasons, from charitable organizations, survey calls, collection calls and some that are labeled "information calls." Some brokers have used this last one as a loophole to get around the DNC registry. They will claim they are not trying to sell a person anything, but they are just providing information as to other options available.
3. Sign up at DMAchoice.com. This will stop loan offers and other offers from coming to your physical mailbox. There is a $2 cost and it covers you for 10 years.

Will these steps prevent unwanted solicitations from other companies?

No. There are too many ways for companies to get someone's personal information. Everyone has put their phone number out into the cyber world for one reason or another. Because of technology there are several ways to obtain phone numbers and other personal information. These are just some actions that can be taken to reduce the solicitations.

Uniform Residential Loan Application

This application is designed to be completed by the applicant(s) with the Lender's assistance. Applicants should complete this form as "Borrower" or "Co-Borrower", as applicable. Co-Borrower information must also be provided (and the appropriate box checked) when the income or assets of a person other than the Borrower (including the Borrower's spouse) will be used as a basis for loan qualification or the income or assets of the Borrower's spouse or other person who has community property rights pursuant to state law will not be used as a basis for loan qualification, but his or her liabilities must be considered because the spouse or other person has community property rights pursuant to applicable law and Borrower resides in a community property state, the security property is located in a community property state, or the Borrower is relying on other property located in a community property state as a basis for repayment of the loan.

If this is an application for joint credit, Borrower and Co-Borrower each agree that we intend to apply for joint credit (sign below).

SECTION 2. SERVICES PROVIDED: Services provided by us can include, but are not limited to: arranging for a conditional mortgage loan commitment between Borrower and Lender, taking the mortgage loan application, assembling information, processing the mortgage loan file including verifying the information, preparing all paperwork and documentation necessary for a conditional mortgage loan commitment, reviewing, analyzing and evaluating Borrower(s)' financial statements, income, and credit history, incidental services utilized in arranging for and procuring a conditional loan commitment including mail and long distance telephone charges.

The retail price we offer you - your interest rate and total points and fees - will include our compensation. Alternatively, we may be paid a portion of our compensation by both you and the lender. For example, in some cases, if you would rather pay less up-front, you may be able to pay some or all of our compensation indirectly through a higher interest rate in which case we will be paid directly by the lender. We also may be paid by the lender based on (i) the value of the Mortgage Loan or related servicing rights in the market place or (ii) other services, goods or facilities performed or provided by us to the lender.

For loans secured by real property, the amount of fees and charges that you pay in connection with your will be estimated on your Loan Estimate and final figures will be reflected on your Closing Disclosure.
